MISSOULA--

University of Montana track coach Harley Lewis will send four of his thinclads to nearby Pullman, Washington, this Saturday to compete in the Washington State Invitational indoor meet.

Lewis said, "We have competed in the meet every year they have held it. It is a well established meet and some 20-25 schools from the Northwest will enter. We would like to send a larger group of competitors, but final week is coming up and the kids need the time for studying."

George Cook, Terry Pitts, John O'Neill and Doug Darko will run middle-distance races Saturday. Cook and Pitts will enter the 1000-yard run and O'Neill and Darko will enter the mile-and-a-half race.

Cook set a school record of 2:10.0 in the 1000 two weeks ago. Cook set his mark while competing in the minidome in Pocatello, Idaho.

Lewis said that he plans to send a larger group of athletes to the University of Washington Invitational in Seattle next weekend.
